We undertake to draw this Privacy Notice to the attention of all relevant parties, and should you engage our services we will take it to mean that you are satisfied with its contents. Should you have any concerns or wish to discuss the contents of this notice further, please contact our Data Protection Compliance Officer at info@gr-eat.co.uk. We may update this notice from time to time and we recommend you refer to it regularly on our website.

What type of information we collect?

We will only collect the personal data necessary to facilitate our interaction with you, such as information that is necessary for the performance of a contract between you and us and information without which we would not be able to provide you with the requested services. Categories of personal data we may collect from you include: 1. Your name; 2. Your contact details (email, address, phone number). We do not seek to obtain personal data that falls outside the scope of this Privacy Policy and we kindly request that individuals do not furnish us with any unnecessary personal data.

How we collect information?

When you conduct a transaction on our website, as part of the process, we collect personal information you give us such as your name, telephone and email address. Your personal information will be used for the specific reasons stated above only.

Why we collect such personal information?

We collect such Personal Information for the following purposes:

1. To provide and operate our Services;
2. To be able to contact our Visitors and Users with general or personalized service-related notices and promotional messages;
3. To comply with any applicable laws and regulations.
4. To process for a legitimate interest pursued by us. For example, our commercial interest where we have provided you with some of our services we may contact you regarding other promotions or updates we believe might be beneficial to you
5. To process based on consent for example where you have chosen to sign up to our newsletter.

How we store, use, share and disclose our site visitors' personal information?

Our company is hosted on the Wix.com platform. Wix.com provides us with the online platform that allows us to communicate our services to you. Your data may be stored through Wix.com's data storage, databases and the general Wix.com applications. They store your data on secure servers behind a firewall. In accordance with data protection legislation we may destroy personal data supplied to us where we do not believe we have a sufficient legal basis to retain it. It is important that the personal data we hold about you is accurate and current. Please keep us informed if your personal data changes during your relationship with us.

We may use your data in the following ways but only ever for the purpose for which it was collected:

- To reserve a table in our restaurant
- To contact you about our services, promotions or updates if you have subscribed to our website
- For invoicing and payment purposes
- To comply with our legal obligations.
- Third party processors from time to time, only where necessary to facilitate our relationship with you, we may transfer your personal data to our third- party data processors. Processors have obligations under the data protection legislation with regards to your data as well as obligations in accordance with their contractual relationship with us. We require all third parties to respect the security of your personal data and to treat it in accordance with the law. We do not allow our third-party service providers to use your personal data for their own purposes and only permit them to process your personal data for specified purposes and in accordance with our instructions. These third-party data processors include: 1. Our professional advisers and auditors; and 2. Our IT service providers
- Marketing Where we have already provided you with our services in some way we may contact you with regards to other services, promotions or events that we believe you may be interested in. If you do not wish to hear from us, please let us know. If you have given us your consent to contact, you by email or other means for marketing purposes we will only use the personal data provided for this purpose and your details will not be passed to any third parties. You have the right to withdraw your consent for processing at any time and should you wish to do so, please contact the Data Protection Compliance Officer or follow the unsubscribe option in the email you receive. Once we have received notification that you have withdrawn your consent, we will no longer contact you for marketing purposes and, subject to our retention policy, we will dispose of your personal data securely.

We have legal obligations as a company to retain records containing personal data, even after the main purpose of a relationship has ended, for example where we have fulfilled a private booking for you but need to keep the invoice for our records. In accordance with our obligations, legal documents will be retained for 6 years, after which archived files are destroyed. Nevertheless, for all personal data, once our obligation to retain the data ceases, we will cease processing and destroy it. We will store the personal data you supply to us when making a reservation for a maximum of 8 weeks. In order to provide an efficient service to our customers we will use this information so as to ensure regular patrons do not need to hand over their contact details every time they book with us. If you do not wish us to store your data in this way, please let us know when you make a reservation or at any time afterwards. To determine the appropriate retention period for personal data, we consider the amount, nature, and sensitivity of the personal data, the potential risk of harm from unauthorised use or disclosure of your personal data, the purposes for which we process your personal data and whether we can achieve those purposes through other means, and the applicable legal requirements. Details of retention periods for different aspects of your personal data are available in our retention policy which you can request from us by contacting our Data Protection Compliance Officer. We maintain appropriate security measures to prevent the misuse, loss or disclosure of your personal data. All electronic documents are stored on password protected devices and paper files are kept in locked cabinets. Our staff receive training about how to keep our reservation book secure and reservation are removed from the book every 8 weeks in accordance with our data retention policy. Your rights You have the right to access the personal data we hold for you and the right to request that your personal data be rectified, erased or transported to another data controller. You will not have to pay a fee to access your personal data (or to exercise any of the other rights). However, we may charge a reasonable fee if your request is clearly unfounded, repetitive or excessive. Alternatively, we may refuse to comply with your request in these circumstances. You may also request that we erase all your data that we hold or that we restrict processing. Should you wish to exercise any of these rights, please contact the Data Protection Compliance Officer. You have the right to make a complaint at any time to the Information Commissioner’s Office (ICO), the UK supervisory authority for data protection issues (www.ico.org.uk). We would, however, appreciate the chance to deal with your concerns before you approach the ICO so please contact us in the first instance.
